Minister's Message

The mission of the Department of Healthy and Inclusive Communities is to lead, promote and support the development of healthy and inclusive communities.

Achieving this mission requires the development of strong partnerships, both within and outside of government. Government departments must work together to coordinate policies, programs and services. Communities, the non-profit sector and stakeholders must be engaged to collaborate effectively with government.

As the focal point of activity aimed at the development of healthy and inclusive communities, the department oversees program development and delivery in the areas of Sport and Recreation, Wellness, and Active Communities. In 2013-14, the department hosted nine regional public sessions with New Brunswickers to establish a common vision for living healthy and aging well. A new toll-free information line for seniors was created and the department invested in a para-sport equipment loan service for persons with a disability. Additionally, significant work was undertaken to implement the New Brunswick Sports Plan and evaluate and renew New Brunswick's Wellness Strategy.

Within government, the department provides cross-departmental leadership to coordinate programs, policies and services for seniors, youth, persons with a disability, and persons living in poverty. Interdepartmental working groups have been created in these priority areas to facilitate the exchange of information, ideas and best practices.

Government cannot operate in a vacuum. A critical part of our departmental mandate is to serve as a vehicle through which government can engage and work in partnership with communities, the non-profit sector and stakeholders.

The work we do helps New Brunswickers have an enriched quality of life wherever they live, work, learn or play. This annual report reflects the excellent progress that we made during 2013-14. I look forward to building on this success in the coming year as we move New Brunswick forward together.

Honourable Cathy Rogers
Minister of Healthy and Inclusive Communities

Deputy Minister's Message

This year, the annual report of the Department of Healthy and Inclusive Communities has a new design and format. The redesigned format, adopted by the Executive Council Office (ECO), will focus on performance reporting.

The 2013-2014 fiscal year was transformational for the department, as we began our journey to become a performance based organization. Significant progress was made in developing a new mission statement, identifying objectives to align with our mission and establishing other measures to track our progress and ensure we are meeting our targets.

The department undertook a Lean Six Sigma project to review its Active Communities Grant program. Efficiencies were identified and implemented, resulting in improved cycle time for processing of grant applications and increased client satisfaction.

The Wellness Strategy was in development and will impact the work of all departments in government. We look forward to partnering with other departments to assist in aligning their initiatives with the goals of New Brunswick's Wellness strategy.

We are proud of the work that has been done to ensure greater accountability for the dollars we spend. Additionally, our team worked diligently to identify outcomes for the services it provides to the public and various stakeholder groups and organizations.

As we move forward, our priority will be to develop a culture of continuous improvement. We must identify where things can be done better, make necessary changes and ensure we sustain the improvements that are made. Through these efforts, we will transform ourselves into an efficient, results-oriented, performance based organization.

Edith Doucet
Deputy Minister

Highlights

- Based on the results of a comprehensive evaluation of the 2009-2013 Wellness Strategy, consultations were conducted with partners and stakeholders to support the renewal process. Recommendations from the evaluation, along with input from the consultation process, informed the development of New Brunswick's renewed Wellness Strategy, which will be released in 2014-15.
- A Toll-Free Seniors Information Line was established providing older adults with a traditional method of speaking one-on-one with bilingual, customer-service oriented telephone agents. Agents will provide basic information about provincial programs and services, assist callers in navigating their way through the various government departments and ensure that callers get to the right service provider as required. The service was launched on October 1, 2013 in conjunction with National Seniors Day and United International Day of Older Persons.
- Legislation enabling the permitting and regulating of combat sport events in New Brunswick, was developed. The Combat Sport Act and regulations come into force in 2014-15.
- Through Para NB Sport and Recreation and the New Brunswick Aboriginal Sport and Recreation Authority, continued investments were made to support the development of sport and recreation participation opportunities for persons with a physical disability and aboriginal youth.
- The department worked with the Economic and Social Inclusion Corporation to coordinate multi-department feedback on the Overcoming Poverty Together 2 plan, which will be released in 2014-15.
- The department collaborated with the departments of Social Development and Health on a new strategy for seniors entitled Home First. Home First is a three-year plan to enhance healthy aging and care for all seniors in New Brunswick. The Home First strategy addresses recommendations contained in the report entitled Premier's Panel on Seniors: Living Healthy, Aging Well, which was released by the department in December 2012.
- The Interdepartmental Working Group on Youth (IDWG), led by the department, was formed in 2013. The IDWG has responsibility to review the 1NB Youth Strategy, assess progress, and provide status updates. In February 2014, the IDWG held a consultation with youth stakeholders that will inform government's response to 1NB.
- The implementation of the Employment Action Plan for Persons with a Disability is led by the department, in partnership with key stakeholders and other government departments. This Action Plan is now in year three of a five year implementation process, with 85 percent of its actionable items in progress or completed.
- The Active Communities Grant Program provided support for activities and projects that raise awareness of the importance and enjoyment of physical activity and promoted new or expanded opportunities for New Brunswickers to be active.
- The department developed its first Strategy Map and Balanced Scorecard under the formal management system.

Strategic Priorities

Strategy Management

The Government of New Brunswick (GNB) has implemented a formal management system, built on leading business practices, to develop, communicate and review strategy. This process provides the public service with a proven methodology in both public and private sectors to execute strategy.

The formal management system starts with a strategic vision. The government expresses its vision through the themes of a stronger economy and an enhanced quality of life while living within our means. This strategic vision is articulated through the strategy map, which is a tool to provide focus and overall direction for improvement.

The Perspectives of the Strategy Map

The strategy map focuses on what's important to citizens: stimulating job creation and getting more people working; access to necessary programs and services; and providing value for their tax dollars. The financial perspective addresses the financial requirements needed to sustainably support the commitment to citizens, stretching across all three themes of the vision. The financial perspective focuses on supporting the private sector to stimulate growth, ensuring the government lives within its means by achieving a sustainable budget, and funding priority programs to contribute to an enhanced quality of life.

The internal processes are government's direct role in achieving the vision. They are the strategic improvements government needs to successfully implement to achieve the vision. Each department sets its own goals and priorities within the strategic themes to match its programs and specialized needs.

The enablers ensure that GNB is ready to execute the strategy through internal processes. Leaders and employees need to develop and demonstrate behaviours that engage others to ensure the success of strategic projects. Leaders need the right information at the right time to make strategic decisions, and the culture must align and recognize those who contribute to achievement of the strategy.

Departmental Strategy Map

The Department of Healthy and Inclusive Communities is among the Wave III group of government departments implementing a formal management system. As such, in 2013-2014, the department undertook the development of a Strategy Map. The department's strategic direction aligns with government's vision, particularly as it relates to ensuring that New Brunswickers enjoy an enhanced quality of life. Our primary objective is to support action on all dimensions of wellness and on all determinants of health.

Our Strategy Map focuses on supporting citizens in leading a healthy life. Through a variety of initiatives, the department works with individuals, groups, non-profit organizations, communities, businesses and all levels of government, to improve the quality of life for New Brunswickers.

We offer strong leadership and build partnerships to assist communities in identifying and building upon their own assets. To ensure greater accountability of the dollars being spent, the department will make certain that investments are evidence-based so that the right programs and services are provided, as needed, throughout the province.

Strategic Theme: Enhanced Quality of Life

Objective of the measure

"Help me lead a healthy life"

Measure

Percentage of New Brunswickers overweight or obese.

Description of measure

The percentage of overweight or obese New Brunswickers is based on all citizens over the age of 18 who self-report that they are overweight or obese. Body mass index (BMI) is used to calculate obesity. BMI is a measure of body fat based on a simple calculation using a person's height and weight. A BMI of 25.0 or more is overweight or obese, while the healthy range is 18.5 to 24.9. BMI applies to most adults 18-65 years.

Overall performance

The Province of New Brunswick's obesity rate for 2013 was higher than it has been in five years. It takes years before real change in weight status of the population is seen. Changes in lifestyle are required over the long-term to make any significant reductions in this measure.

Baseline: 62.8% (2010)

Target: 63% (2013)

Actual: 64.3% (2013)

Why do we measure this?

The overweight/obesity indicator provides information related to the health and well-being of New Brunswickers. The lower the percentage of persons who are overweight/obese, the lower the risk in the population of a number of chronic conditions, such as type 2 diabetes, high blood pressure, heart disease and some forms of cancer.

Overweight and obesity is a complex problem with many causes and interconnected factors. Factors that contribute to the problem include poverty, literacy, education, as well as rural residence and minority status. In part, this means that people's ability to make healthier choices is shaped by the choices they have. The impact of being overweight or obese on quality of life, health care costs, performance, and other variables is well documented.

In 2013, New Brunswick ranked third highest in Canada with respect to the rate of overweight and obese adults.

What projects were undertaken in the reporting year to achieve the outcome?

The department continued to promote the Provincial Wellness Strategy and to work with communities, schools, workplaces and individuals to support creation of environments that promote wellness. This will provide opportunities for New Brunswickers to be physically active and eat healthy in an effort to reduce unhealthy weights.

Strategic Theme: Enhanced Quality of Life

Objective of the measure

Make evidence-based strategic investments

Measure

Percentage of communities that are active in a wellness network in the Province.

Description of measure

The department works with communities in the province to support wellness initiatives through involvement in 23 Wellness Networks. Communities are encouraged to become actively engaged in a wellness network to ensure a collaborative approach is taken to address priorities related to the well-being of residents.

Overall performance

In 2013-14, 77 of the 121 incorporated communities (63.6%) were engaged in a wellness network. Historically, the department has been able to encourage two communities per year to engage in a wellness network. In 2013-14 this target was achieved and there are currently 79 communities actively involved in a wellness network.

Baseline: 63.6%

Target: 65.3%

Actual: 65.3%

Why do we measure this?

Population health requires a comprehensive approach. When members of a society recognize that health is much more than health care, work together to address all the social, economic and environmental determinants of health and focus on all dimensions of wellness, then the health and well-being of a population will be optimized. Achieving wellness is most effective when it involves many stakeholders taking coordinated action in a variety of ways. Encouraging communities to become active in a wellness network builds capacity and ensures collaborative action is taken towards healthy lifestyles in a variety of settings. Grounded in strong partnerships, wellness networks organize community efforts towards enhanced wellness.

What projects were undertaken in the reporting year to achieve the outcome?

The department's Regional Wellness Consultants supported the Wellness Networks by providing resources and support to mobilize community action on wellness priorities. Wellness networks promote healthy eating, increased physical activity and/or other wellness goals through family-friendly activities and events such as walking clubs, community gardens, cooking lessons for adults and children, and much, much more.

Strategic Theme: Living Within Our Means

Objective of the measure

Achieve Sustainable Budget

Measure

Ratio of actual to budgeted expenditures.

Description of measure

Measures whether the Department is adhering to the expense budget that it tabled at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Overall performance

In 2013-2014, the department's budget was set at $17.3 M. The department was able to keep spending down and underspent by 4.5% of our budget and spent only $16,526 million (95.5% of the budget).

Baseline: 98.3% (2012-2013)

Target: N/A

Actual: 95.5% (2013-2014)

Why do we measure this?

This measure is critical to ensuring that the department can manage overall expenses compared to budget. In an effort to live within our means, departments worked to monitor expenses and take steps to correct any variances as they occurred that might result in being over-budget.

What projects were undertaken in the reporting year to achieve the outcome?

During 2013-2014, the department took steps to review its spending and, where possible, was able to reduce expenditures to be able to come in under budget.

Summary of Official Languages

Introduction

During fiscal 2013-2014, work was undertaken in the Human Resources Branch to adjust the Department of Healthy and Inclusive Communities Action Plan on Official Languages. This plan was modeled on the Government Plan on Official Languages which was introduced in 2011. The intent of the Government Plan is to advance the status of official languages and ensure that government departments implement the necessary measures to enable them to fulfill their obligations under the Official Languages Act (OLA) by 2013.

Focus 1

- Action: linguistic profiles will be updated and maintained to ensure that the department has the capability to offer quality services in both official languages.
- Activity: linguistic profiles are monitored on a monthly basis to ensure that they are current and also that the number of bilingual requirements in each work unit is appropriate.
- Action: the departments and agencies will ensure that all written and oral communication with clients will be in the language of their choice.
- Activity: Human Resources made presentations on official language policies.

Focus 2

- Action: performance reviews will be offered and conducted in the employees' official language of choice.
- Activity: all managers have been informed on the language of work policy through training provided.

Focus 3

- Action: employees will participate in training sessions enabling them to discuss the advantages of official bilingualism and convey the government's message.
- Activity: the human resources branch delivered presentation on official language policies to employees.

Focus 4

- Action: the department ensures all managers review the official languages policies as part of the performance management process and discuss the ability to provide the services in both official languages as required.
- Activity: the employee performance review process includes a review of the official languages policies.

Conclusion

One of the primary indicators of success is that the department received only one official complaint under the OLA in 2013-14 and it was deemed to be unfounded.
